2019-20 MONTHLY THEMES

Find monthly theme packets including readings and poetry at wbuuc.org/themes or at the Welcome Center in the Atrium.

The intention of the themed year is to help Unitarian Universalists build a robust spiritual and ethical vocabulary. The themes are not “topics,” but instead points of departure for religious liberals seeking to think, speak and act theologically, prophetically and prayerfully. The themes reclaim religious language, casting old terms in a new key to deepen spiritual grounding and sharpen moral reasoning. Each theme includes a practice which helps to provide a point of reflection and embodiment of the theme.

We engage these themes in Sunday worship, small groups and classes, religious education, committees and leadership, and personal spiritual practice.

September	CURIOSITY	The Practice of Opening
October	CHURCH	The Practice of Gathering
November	COMMUNION	The Practice of Offering
December	BLESSING	The Practice of Noticing
January	RESILIENCE	The Practice of Trusting
February	AWAKENING	The Practice of Letting in Light
March	ATTENTION	The Practice of Centering
April	IMPERMANENCE	The Practice of Transforming
May	IMPERFECTION	The Practice of Shining
June/Summer	MYTHOLOGY	The Practice of Shaping Our Stories

Theme Circles are gatherings of 6-8 adults meeting monthly in a facilitated conversation. Guided by a simple format and a packet of readings, poetry, and reflective questions, each circle is led by a trained facilitator in a practice of listening and sharing. Circles engage the largest questions of life—hope, simplicity, covenant, mortality, spirit, salvation, prayer, and more—in a Unitarian Universalist key. Find past theme packets at wbuuc.org/themes and watch for new fall postings.

Living with Grief

Sundays, October 27 - December 8 | 1-2:30pm

Facilitators: Jo Ford, MSE & Sheryl Niebuhr, PhD

The most universal human experience we share is the death of a loved one. We will explore the often bewildering process of grief with readings and poetry, and share the personal experience of loss. Our hope is that "a grief shared will be a grief diminished." Even if you've been part of this group in the past, we welcome you to come again, as your journey of healing continues.

UU Wellspring*

Spiritual Deepening for the UU Soul

2nd & 4th Sundays, Oct. 13 - June 21 | 12:30-2:30pm

"What will you do with this one wild and precious life?" asks the poet Mary Oliver. UU Wellspring™ is a 9-month program of distinctly Unitarian Universalist spiritual development designed to help participants answer that provocative question.

The program celebrates the depth and breadth of our rich religious tradition, and asks us to strive to understand our beliefs and align them with our actions, inspiring us to articulate what they call us to do in the world. UU Wellspring incorporates five elements designed to balance a knowledge of UU history and theology with personal spiritual practice and engagement with the world:

- A commitment to daily spiritual practice
- Participation in a small-group community twice a month
- Individual work with a spiritual director
- Readings and resources for knowledge and reflection
- Reflection and commitment to live out our values in the work

By registration only.

Building Bridges for Adults*

2nd and 4th Tuesdays beginning September 24
6:30-8:30pm

Building Bridges is a world religions program to deepen our understanding of the dynamic, fascinating, and varied world in which we live. Participants will be invited to explore their own religious pasts and paths as we learn about many different faith traditions and build connections with other communities of faith.

This group will meet on the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of each month at WBUUC, and participants will visit other communities of faith throughout the year. Monthly visit dates TBA. By registration only.

My Grandmother's Hands*

1st and 3rd Sundays, October 20 – May 3
12:30-2:30pm

Facilitators: Victoria Safford, Heather MacLean, Kelsey Carnigan

What is the relationship between white supremacy culture and our own living, breathing, individual bodies? Join us as we explore together Resmaa Menakem's beautiful, revolutionary, strategic, and ultimately hopeful book, My Grandmother's Hands. We'll unpack generations of racialized trauma stored in the collective bones and muscles of white bodies, black bodies, and blue bodies—the bodies of police nationwide—and move together toward strategies for healing, restoration, and justice. Resmaa Menakem is a social worker and therapist who has served as director of counseling services for the Tubman Family Alliance, a domestic violence counselor for the Wilder Foundation, and cultural somatics consultant for the Minneapolis police department. Books are available in the Social Hall Bookstall, or you may borrow a copy (vsafford@wbuuc.org).

By registration only. We're looking to gather a small, committed group for the entire series of discussions. Please sign up in the Atrium, or email Victoria at vsafford@wbuuc.org.

Witnessing Whiteness*

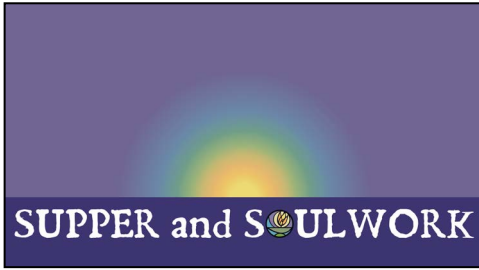

Witnessing Whiteness: The Need to Talk About Race and How to Do It

Goals of class: 1) Notice and respond to interpersonal, institutional, and cultural racism; 2) Explore your personal relationship to race; 3) Improve relationships and collaboration across race to support social justice efforts.

Details: By registration only. Class meets from 12:30-2:30pm, Sundays: Oct. 27, Nov. 3 & 17, Dec. 1 & 15, Jan. 5 & 26, Feb. 2 & 16, Mar. 1. Participants are asked to commit to attending all the sessions, if at all possible, so that they can develop deep and supportive relationships with other group members as we discuss these difficult issues.

Text for the class is "Witnessing Whiteness," by Shelly Tochluk. Books are available at no cost, but donations are welcome. For more information, contact Jane Bacon (651.329.6376; wbuuc.org/churchlife), or Sharon Gooch (763.238.7014; wbuuc.org/churchlife).

*These four programs are being run as "registration only" because the topics are emotionally and spiritually significant and we can only do them justice by building trust with a group of people for the duration of the time together. To sign up, go to wbuuc.org/calendar and if you have questions, contact Rev. Sara Goodman (revsara@wbuuc.org).

We have a rotating schedule, including contemplative worship, drop in theme circles, and spirituality-based intellectual discussions and presentations on justice topics.

Grow Your Soul Through Music

Do you love to sing? Consider joining our excellent choir under the direction of Thaxter Cunio. It's true that singing with others builds community and is good for your overall health and well-being! Studies show that choral singing improves our mood, with a decrease in stress, depression and anxiety. These effects are often attributed to the deeper breathing associated with singing, that is also used in meditation. These benefits are enhanced in a group setting, compared to singing alone.

All are welcome to join our choir, there are no auditions. We sing an eclectic mix of accompanied and a cappella music—some challenging us to be better, and some guaranteed to crack open hearts. Rehearsals are every Wednesday from 6:15pm to 7:30pm. Generally, the choir sings for the 9:00pm and 11:00pm services on first and third Sundays each month, with a few exceptions.

Come check out a rehearsal and audition us! See if it's for you!
